A Convention of American Israelites assembled at New York on Monday evening, at the Cooper Institute, when about 30 congregations were present. The Executive Committee state that they have collected and remitted to Sir Moses Monteliore the sum of $20,000 for the relief of the More coo refugees. They call attention to the difficult negotiation necessary to establish their rights under the treaty with Switzerland, and also to the fact that no provision was made for any privileges to citizens of Jewish faith in the treaties with China and Japan. They refer to the fact that no Jewish citizen can hold office under the Constitution of North Carolina, and suggest the propriety of memorializing the Legislature of that State for the abrogation of this obnoxious provision. A short time since the Baroness de Rothschild presented to the Society, for gratuitous distribution among the schools, 500 copies of "Addresses to Young Children," written by the Baroness, and originally delivered by her eldest daughter to the children of the Bell lane school, London. These books will be distributed among the various schools in the United States, in proportion to their numbers. The committee recommend a more thorough organization among the Israelites of the United States, and the compilation of reliable statistics, of the congregetions, members thereof, schools, and pupils among the Jews of this country. A spirited discussion took place on the adoption of the by-laws. The large congregations favored a plan of taxation, representation, and power in the small, according to the representation of members, so that small congregations could not outvote the large ones .-Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans, and other small places were atraid of being swallowed up by New York, and wanted their congregations to have equal power with gained their point, and struck out the bylaw which the New Yorkers proposed. The provincial towns also succeeded in having Philadelphia named as the place for the next annual meeting, on the second Monday in and a fish house. August next.

AN APPEAL. - "What would you think of a farmer who had raised a thousand bushels of wheat, and who should sell it to a thousand different persons scattered all over the State, and agree to wait a year from each one of them, and if one-half of them did not pay at the end of the year, he should give them another bushel of wheat, and agree to wait another year for his pay, and thus go on year after year? How long would such a farmer escape bankruptcy? probably not very much longer than publishers of newspipers who follow such practice. It costs the editor of a weekly paper as much to supply a thousand subscribers with it for one year as it costs a farmer to raise a thousand bushels of wheat. The farmer sells his grain in bulk, and either takes the cash, or a note as good as cash, for it upon delivery. The persons living in different towns in the county, and different counties in the State to any one desiring to examine them. and he must wait until the end of the year before he can get his payment, and then he depends wholly upon the honor and responsibility of the subscribers for it is impossible that he should know the character of all his subscribers. It will not pay him to go the collections would come to.

ATTACK BY A SWARM OF BEES. - A singular occurrence took place at Astrim, Mich., on the 2d inst, which is thus related by the Detroit Tribune:

A swarm of bees, belonging to a Mr. Decker, came out of the hive in a great fury and attacked a man by the name of Munger, who was crossing the field at the time some thirty or forty rods off. He undertook to flee to the woods, but the bees were before and behind him so thick that he found it impossible to run. He then commenced a fight with hat in hand, but he was very soon overpowered. and fell down with faintness, and would soon have died, had not a son of Mr. Decker-who was at this time approaching from another stingers left Mun ger and commenced an attack upon young Decker, who fled with all speed to a shed or granary, in which was a favorite shepherd dog chained. These bees immediately left the young man, and attacked the poor dog with such fury as to deprive him of life before he could be let loose. It is said the dog actually killed more than a quart of bees in his vigorous defence. Mr. Munger and Mr. Decker were in a dangerou. state for some hours, but are now recov-

The price of the whole was demanded because 500,000 Imported and Domestic SEGARS the "set" was broken. The carriage was at the door; there was no time for discussion, but enough for action. Hastily paying the demand, and directing the carriage to wait a moment, she went directly back to her room, and, taking the poker, incontinently broke every remaining piece in the set.

The "N. Y. The land comprises about FOUR THOUSAND ACRES. Is situated on both sides of the Rappahannock river, about twelve miles below Fredericksburg. A large portion is the celebrated Rappahannock river bottom, not subject to overflow, s of great fertility, in a high state of cultivation, and is well adapted to the growth of wheat, corn

It is contiguous to Post Offices, to Churches, belonging to different denominations of christians, and is in the midst of a healthy neighborhood, well settled, and a cultivated and excellent society, equal to any in Virginia. The and is divided by the Rappahannock river into two tracts. Moss' Neek containing about TWO THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED ACRES, lies on the south side of the river in the county of About 600 acres are in wood-heavy timber of original growth. The residue is arable land of fine quality, some 600 acres being river loam, the remainder a stiff clay soil.

The improvements on this tract consist of a large and elegant brick MANSION, finished in 1856, containing sixteen rooms, with Marble Mantles, a large hall, three passages, and six porches, with marble floors. Two comfortable framed DWELLING HOUSES, gas works, with all the appliances, an office, and all the necessary out buildings. Stabling for sixty horses, six large barns and granaries, sixteen negro cabius, lathed and plastered, with brick chimneys; a wharf, and a fishery can be established on the land. This tract can be divided into three parcels, havmig ing a DWELLING HOUSE and all the necessary farm buildings on each.

Farley Vale containing about SEVENTEEN HUNDRED ACRES, lies on the north side of the river, immediately opposite to Moss Neck, in the those of New York. The country towns county of King George. About 350 acres are in wood-a pocosin valuable for wood and as a range for cattle and hogs, comprise about 400 acres, and the residue is river loam of rare and inexhaustible fertility. There is a fishery attached to this tract, with the necessary outfit of seine, boats, etc., etc.,

The improvements consist of a comfortable framed DWELLING HOUSE, containing eight rooms, with all the necessary out buildings, ten negro cabins, lathed and plastered, with brick himneys, and three large granaries.

The grain produced on this tract is discharged into vessels by a spout. These tracts will be sold, subject to confirmation, by the Court.

They will also sell at the same time and place ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-FIVE SLAVES, comprising mechanics, house servants and farm hands. An unusually likely and valuable lot of negroes, and a large number of horses, mules, oxen, cattle, of improved breeds, and all the usual plantation and farming implements, of the best kind and construction.

TERMS of SALE .- For the negroes cash will be required. A credit of six months, with interest from the day of sale for the perishable property. For the land a small portion of the purchase money will be required in eash; for a portion of the residue an extended credit will be given, the deferred payments to be secured by bonds with personal security and a deed of trust on the premises.
